Johnson Gets Report Today on Rail Talks

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gets a report today on the last-ditch railroad bargaining talks he arranged in an effort to avert a nationwide strike.

Johnson will hear from federal mediators what was originally scheduled as a report on "the progress and the effectiveness" of the first five days of the emergency talks following a 15-day strike postponement.

A highly cautious White House spokesman Tuesday refrained from even referring to it as a "progress" report.

"There is nothing thus far that in any way could be characterized as either progress or a set-back," he said.

The White House spokesman said the talks could be described as optimistic.

"To characterize what is happening either in terms of optimism or pessimism is a disservice not only to the negotiations themselves but to accurate reporting," the spokesman said.

No specific time was set for the mediators' report to Johnson but most of the President's official morning schedule was routine and there was a big gap between 12:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

This led to speculation that the mediators, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, might make their report sometime in the early afternoon.

"I want to make it clear that I do not know whether... the mediators will be able to say

Goldwater Is Winner in Illinois

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater emerged as victor today in Illinois' Republican presidential preference primary. His only opponent on the ballot, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, made a surprising show of strength as the first woman to run for the White House.

Mrs. Smith, who reportedly spent less than $1,000 making two appearances in her brief Illinois campaign, rolled up more than 183,000 votes—25 per cent of the Republican ballots. The lady from Maine had finished a poor fifth in the March 10 primary in her neighboring state of New Hampshire.

Goldwater received more than the total, on the basis of nearly 450,000 votes or 62 per cent of complete returns.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, the segregation leader who piled up 260,000 votes in Wisconsin last week, finished fourth among all write-in candidates. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Charles H. Percy 44, won the dates. He was ahead of Govs. Romney, William W. Scranton, Republican nomination for governor in his first try for public office.

Returns from Tuesday's primary showed this division of the GOP preference vote: Goldwater 62 per cent; Mrs. Smith 25 per cent; on write-in votes, Henry Cabot Lodge 7 per cent; Richard M. Nixon, 3 per cent with the remainder spread among other possible choices.

There were no major contests on the Democratic ticket and no presidential candidates listed, but President Johnson received 38,281 write-in votes.

Goldwater commented in Washington that the outcome demonstrates that "1964 can be a year of victory for our party."

Finishing ahead in his first Midwest test, he called on all members of the party "to unite to work for the election of Republican candidates everywhere, from the state house to the White House."

Pentagon Is at Odds Over Defense Claim

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara permitted use of intelligence estimates to challenge Gen. Curtis E. LeMay because he wanted to kill at birth any myth about declining U.S. military superiority.

This was learned from defense officials today as the gulf widened between the strong-willed defense secretary and the equally strong-minded Air Force chief of staff.

Late Monday the Pentagon issued a statement stressing "the increasing military superiority of the United States." It came after publication of LeMay's February congressional testimony contending the Russians are narrowing the gap.

One high official familiar with McNamara's thinking said the defense secretary feels it is "dangerous to raise any doubts about our strength."

"He thinks it would be wrong to sit my and allow creation of a myth—and it is a myth in his judgment—that there is any lessening of our strength," this official said.

The Defense Department statement did not name LeMay. It was aimed at the considerable pains to deny published reports that the talks could be described as optimistic.

"To characterize what is happening either in terms of optimism or pessimism is a disservice not only to the negotiations themselves but to accurate reporting," the spokesman said.

No specific time was set for the mediators' report to Johnson but most of the President's official morning schedule was routine and there was a big gap between 12:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Co. Cancer Drive Is Launched

More than 100 volunteers here will launch the 1964 Cancer Crusade today in Hempstead County.

They will be among some 2,000,000 volunteers throughout the United States helping in the American Cancer Society's annual educational and fund-raising campaign.

Mrs. Dick Turnage, Crusade Chairman for Hempstead County, listed the primary objectives of the April drive. "Through our educational message we expect to save lives from cancer today," she said, "and through our fund-raising appeal we expect to save lives tomorrow."

The Crusade's educational message urges everyone to have an annual health checkup by a physician and to learn the seven danger signals that may mean cancer. The fund appeal provides support for research, education and service programs.

The chairman said she was confident that "all people of Hempstead County will respond to the Crusade, and will give a neighborly reception to the ACS volunteers who will call with life-saving literature." She said that knowledge of the facts contained in the Crusade literature "may help save a life in your family. A generous contribution would help save other lives now as well as in the future."

Compromise Sought in Rights Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
ASHINGTON (AP) — The behind-the-scenes search for a first-step compromise went forward today as the Senate's wordy floor battle over the House-passed civil rights bill moved into its 31st day.

Although President Johnson has called on the Senate to pass the bill without change, Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said flatly there would be amendments.

But Dirksen, trying to thread his way through sharp differences among his GOP colleagues, was much less definite about what the changes would be.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces, refused comment on the amendments Dirksen is working on. "We haven't seen them yet," he told reporters.

A similar wait-and-see position has been taken by Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, floor manager of the bill. He has made clear he will oppose weakening any essential features of the legislation.

Russell said he will offer an amendment providing that the bill, if it is passed, will not become effective unless it is approved by majority vote in a national referendum.

"The people ought to be heard before we change our form of government," he said.

The cotton plan aims to relieve textile mills in the United States of paying more for American cotton than foreign mills pay in the world market. American cotton is supported at a relatively high price and its world-market sales are subsidized. There will be a subsidy paid for cotton that is used in American mills.

For cotton farmers, there is a basic price support of 30 cents a pound. Farmers who reduce planting by one third will get a bonus payment of 4 cents a pound. Or a farmer can increase planting by 10 percent and sell the excess production with no price support.

bomber to the sidelines too early.

Officials noted that there had been a spate of criticisms, including a new defense strategy paper spelling out the views of one of McNamara's strongest foes, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

But Goldwater's paper dwelt mostly on the issue of missile reliability—which plunged him into collision with McNamara early in Goldwater's quest for the Republican presidential nomination. The senator is an Air Force Reserve major general.

Instead, the Pentagon blast was aimed clearly at disputing questions raised "regarding the magnitude of our superiority and whether it is continuing to grow." LeMay's published testimony raised those questions.

Officials would neither confirm nor deny whether McNamara had initiated the statement, which was issued in the name of the Defense Department.

But they said it would not have come out "without the approval or knowledge of the secretary."

And this approval and knowledge would have applied to its contents—more specific intelligence information about relative U.S.-Soviet strengths than is normally allowed out by the Pentagon.

Asked why this data was being released now, a spokesman said, "These decisions are made in government from time to time."

that progress has been made in the sense of 'we have moved within 10 feet of a solution' or 'we have moved within 13 feet of a solution,' the spokesman said.

"I have no idea in the world, and I don't think the mediators would at this point, and I do not think the participants on either side would."

The negotiators and mediators were to meet in joint session at 9 a.m., the White House said. The emergency talks are aimed at achieving in 15 days a settlement that the government, railroads and unions have failed to obtain in nearly five years of the dispute over wage structure and working conditions.

All other procedures under the law have been exhausted, and Johnson does not now have the power to order a halt or a postponement of a strike.

The President won the 15-day postponement just before some 200,000 engineers, firemen, switchmen, conductors and brakemen were to strike on nearly 200 railroads at 12:01 a.m. last Friday.

Although the White House is maintaining control of all official information on the talks, there are indications that both industry and union sources agree it is too early to predict the outcome.

The White House re-emphasized that Johnson wants today's report so he can determine if any other steps are needed to help the collective bargaining process.

Chaffee Case Reopened by McNamara

By GORDON BROWN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara told an Arkansas delegation today he will reexamine an administration decision to close Ft. Chaffee in Arkansas, by July 1, 1965.

Headed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus and all members of the Arkansas congressional delegation, the group met with McNamara in his Pentagon office for more than an hour outlining their arguments.

After the conference the group, numbering about 20, went to the White House for a brief meeting with President Johnson and a further discussion of the situation with presidential aides.

Rep. James Trimble, D-Ark., told reporters that the meeting with McNamara was cordial and friendly.

"He told us he would look at it again," Trimble said. "However, he gave no indication of what he might decide. But it was a friendly discussion."

He said members of the congressional delegation presented most of the arguments at the McNamara conference and that the secretary did the listening.

The administration announced in December that it would close a number of military installations around the country in the interest of economy. The biggest of those mentioned is Ft. Chaffee, located near Fort Smith.

One of the arguments the Arkansians used was that the closing of all the installations involved would result in a total personnel reduction of about 16,300 but that of this total more than 6,200 would come from the closing of Ft. Chaffee. They contend that Fort Smith and Arkansas thus would be required to bear the brunt of the adverse economic impact of the economy move.

Most of the members in the Arkansas group were from Fort Smith. Included was Mayor Robert Brooksher.

At the White House, the Arkansas group spent about an hour discussing the situation with presidential assistant Larry O'Brien, but did not see the President, himself.

After the meeting with O'Brien, Trimble, who was spokesman for the Arkansians, said they were told the administration would take another look at the matter, and he added that he felt somewhat encouraged.

After the White House meeting, the Arkansians, including Faubus, planned to leave for Arkansas.

The Shover Springs Home Demonstration Club met Friday, April 10 in the home of Mrs. Darrell Dillon. Miss Laura Sue England, president, called the meeting to order. The hostess took the devotion from James, and the Homemaker's Prayer was repeated.

After Miss England gave the Eye Opener, the roll call was answered with helpful household hints. Mrs. Gene Dillard presented the lesson, "Shielding and Shelters." A short business session was conducted, and then Mrs. Clifton East gave some interesting facts and important dates in the history of Hempstead County.

When games were played, the prize was won by Miss England. The door prize went to Mrs. Bob Dillard, and Secret Pal gifts were exchanged. Cake and cold drinks were served to 9 members and 10 children. The May meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Naomi Dillon.

Wesleyan Service Guild 1 Meets

Wesleyan Service Guild 1 met Monday evening, April 13, in the home of Mrs. R. L. McCain. Attractive arrangements of spring flowers brightened the entertaining rooms.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. James McLarty, Jr., vice president, presided over the business session. The nominating committee: Mrs. B. N. Holt, Chairman, Mrs. Glenice Porter, and Mrs. Jett Bundy, presented the following slate of officers, which was accepted by acclamation: President, Mrs. Elmer Brown, Vice President, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Secretary, Miss Kathleen Broach, Treasurer, Mrs. Hazel Castle, Promotion Secretary, Mrs. Glenice Porter. Mrs. G. G. Medders presented an informative program on the subject "Know Your Church: The General Conference." She was assisted in giving a skit by Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Herbert Lewallen, and Mrs. Ben Edmiston.

The group was led in singing "The Church's One Foundation" by Mrs. McLarty, with Mrs. B. C. Hyatt at the piano. The hostess served a delicious salad plate and coffee to the twelve members present.

Mrs. Bill Rogers, Falls Church, Va., has been here a few days to see E. F. Simmons, Mrs. Lex Helms, Sr. and other friends.

Mrs. I. T. Urrey, Camden, was a Tuesday visitor in Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lester returned home Saturday from Little Rock, where he has been hospitalized for six weeks.

Silent Spring Author Dies From Cancer

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Death by cancer has silenced Rachel Carson whose book "Silent Spring" created international controversy with its charge that man was poisoning the earth and himself by his efforts to control nature with chemicals.

Miss Carson, 56, a biologist who became a best selling author in 1951 with "The Sea Around Us," died Tuesday afternoon at her home. She learned five years ago, apparently while working on "Silent Spring," that she had cancer.

Her book helped inspire a White House report last May calling for stronger federal laws on pesticides and new steps to regulate their control.

The book warned of the dangers of tampering with the balance of nature and argued for biological controls rather than massive and indiscriminate use of chemicals, such as pesticides and weed killers.

She wrote: "These sprays, dusts, and aerosols are now applied almost universally to farms, gardens, forests and homes — nonselective chemicals that have the power to kill every insect, the 'good' and the 'bad' to still the song of birds and the leaping of fish in the streams, to coat the leaves with a deadly film, and to linger on in the soil—all this though the intended target may be only a few weeds or insects. Can anyone believe it is possible to lay down such a barrage of poisons on the surface of the earth without making it unfit for all life?"

Miss Carson's book, which ironically also warned of the hazards of man-made cancer-producing substances, was criticized by some, including pesticide industry chemists, as representing an incomplete picture. Manufacturers and trade associations defended the safety of pesticides "when used as di-

DOROTHY DIX

HOW A WOMAN CAN BE A BOSS OVER OTHERS

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm a single woman, 34, with a very good job in charge of a large department in an advertising agency.

I find that I have difficulties with the men and women under me. They come to work late, don't seem interested in their work, and some I find very difficult to work with. I'm afraid to fire any, which I could do if I wished, because the turnover in the office is fairly high already.

I try to be strict with them, but the effects only last a few days. Is there anything I can do to make the department more pleasant? — G. B. W.

Dear G. B. W.: First, be sympathetic. Listen to others, and take an interest in them. To have the greatest influence over other people, what you say and do must rest on a solid foundation of sympathy. You must prove to your employees that you have their interests at heart, as well as your own and that of the business.

Occasionally talk informally with those who work for you. Talk about things that pertain to them. If you share their joys and sorrows by listening to them, you should find them easier to deal with.

Make Them Team Members

In the same way, try to anticipate their likes and dislikes. Give them reasonable encouragement in their jobs. Let them make suggestions. By encouraging a feeling that they're part of the business, an active part, not just a cog in the wheel, they'll begin to show a concern in the business. And an employee who shows an interest for the success of the enterprise, as well as in what he can get out of it, will find the job and the boss pleasant motivations for working.

The salary he takes home, while still important to him, will not be the only reason he comes to work. He'll come because he enjoys his job. Since you're part of that job, he'll find you pleasant to work for, as well.

Be Personal, Sympathetic

The way you speak will increase or decrease the amount of sympathy between you and others. The more personal you can be with your employee, the more sympathetic you'll appear. But the more aloof you are, the less sympathetic you become. Low, soft, normal voice levels in speaking to others increase the personal feeling, while harsh or high-pitched voices suggest the opposite. Choice of words is also important for the same reasons. Patience is another virtue, one a good leader develops early in life. Lack of patience with an employee, especially a new one who is learning a job, increases his feeling of inadequacy.

If you're impatient, you make him feel that he is failing. You will develop in him a sense of insecurity, and make him extra sensitive. Such feelings do not encourage him to come to work. He can't enjoy his job. In most human relationships, patience is often of utmost importance. By overlooking occasional lapses in others, you show them you are reasonable and sympathetic. Of course, you can be too patient. Strictness is called for just as often. Too much patience can foster a feeling of guilt in your employees which can affect his future behavior even more than would absolute strictness.

When you must disapprove of someone and the job he does, and all bosses must at one time or another, aim your disapproval at the behavior rather than at the individual. In so doing, you're not harming the person's self-confidence.

Too harsh disapproval often leaves the individual in a state of shock, which leaves him too dazed or angry to make the proper associations between what he did and what he should have done. Again, sympathetic understanding should be used. Often, the mere hint of disapproval, especially when expressed with warmth, may be quite adequate.

Detroit Beats A's, Orioles Trip Chicago

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball season is just one day old and Charles O. Finley already has had two setbacks.

The American League torpedoed his "Pennant Race" in Kansas City last week and the Tigers went to work on his ball club in Detroit Tuesday.

The results were the same. Municipal Stadium has half a porch and the Tigers left just about that much of the Athletic pitching staff intact after a 7-3 Opening-Day victory.

Detroit's new-look Tigers were something to see but it wasn't a pleasant sight for Finley. The key executives were Jerry Lumpe and Dave Wickersham, who were the Kelly green and gold Athletic uniforms a year ago.

Finley swapped Lumpe, an infielder, and pitchers Wickersham and Ed Rakow for slugger Rocky Colavito and hurler Bob Anderson during the winter and off the first day's results, the Tigers came out way ahead.

Lumpe stroked a single, double and triple as the Tigers punished three Kansas City pitchers with a 12-hit assault. Wickersham came on in the ninth inning as the A's staged a later rally. After an error and a walk, he got Gino Cimoli to end it.

Colavito, meanwhile, went 0-for-4.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles got long-ball power with three home runs to trip the Chicago White Sox 5-3 and the Minnesota Twins and Cleveland Indians staged a slugfest with the Twins winning 7-6. The Yankees and Boston Red Sox were rained out in New York and Washington and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Suffering Never Ends for Bum Fans

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The suffering never ends for Brooklyn's orphaned baseball fans. Old wounds, six years in healing after Walter O'Malley separated the faithful from their Dodgers, have reopened. Duke Snider, the pride of Flatbush, has gone over to the still-hated Giants.

Snider, 37, was acquired by the Giants—San Francisco vintage—from the New York Mets in a straight cash deal Tuesday. The silver-haired slugger may start alongside Willie Mays, another New York folk hero who went West, in the San Francisco outfield tonight when the Giants meet the Milwaukee Braves on the West Coast.

Old-line Dodger fans and "New Breed" Met rooters were dismayed by the second passing of the Duke. But Snider welcomed the move and the Giants, who have been after the veteran for some time, were equally happy.

"You're just what we need to win the (National League) pennant," Horace Stoneham, Giants president, told Snider via telephone after the deal was announced.

"Just the opportunity to play with a contender again should add a couple of years to my career," Snider said before leaving for San Francisco. "I think I can help the Giants. I think I can play quite a few games for them."

"I never rooted for the Giants before—except in a World Series, but I'm sure rooting for them now."

Snider came to the Mets a year ago after 16 seasons with the Dodgers in Brooklyn and Los Angeles. He appeared in 129 games in 1963, frequently as a pinch hitter, and batted .243 with 14 home runs and 45 runs batted in.

Snider has hit 403 career homers, 10th highest total in history, and takes a .298 lifetime batting average to San Francisco.

The Giants, loaded with right-handed power, plan to use the left-handed hitting Snider primarily in pinch hitting roles.

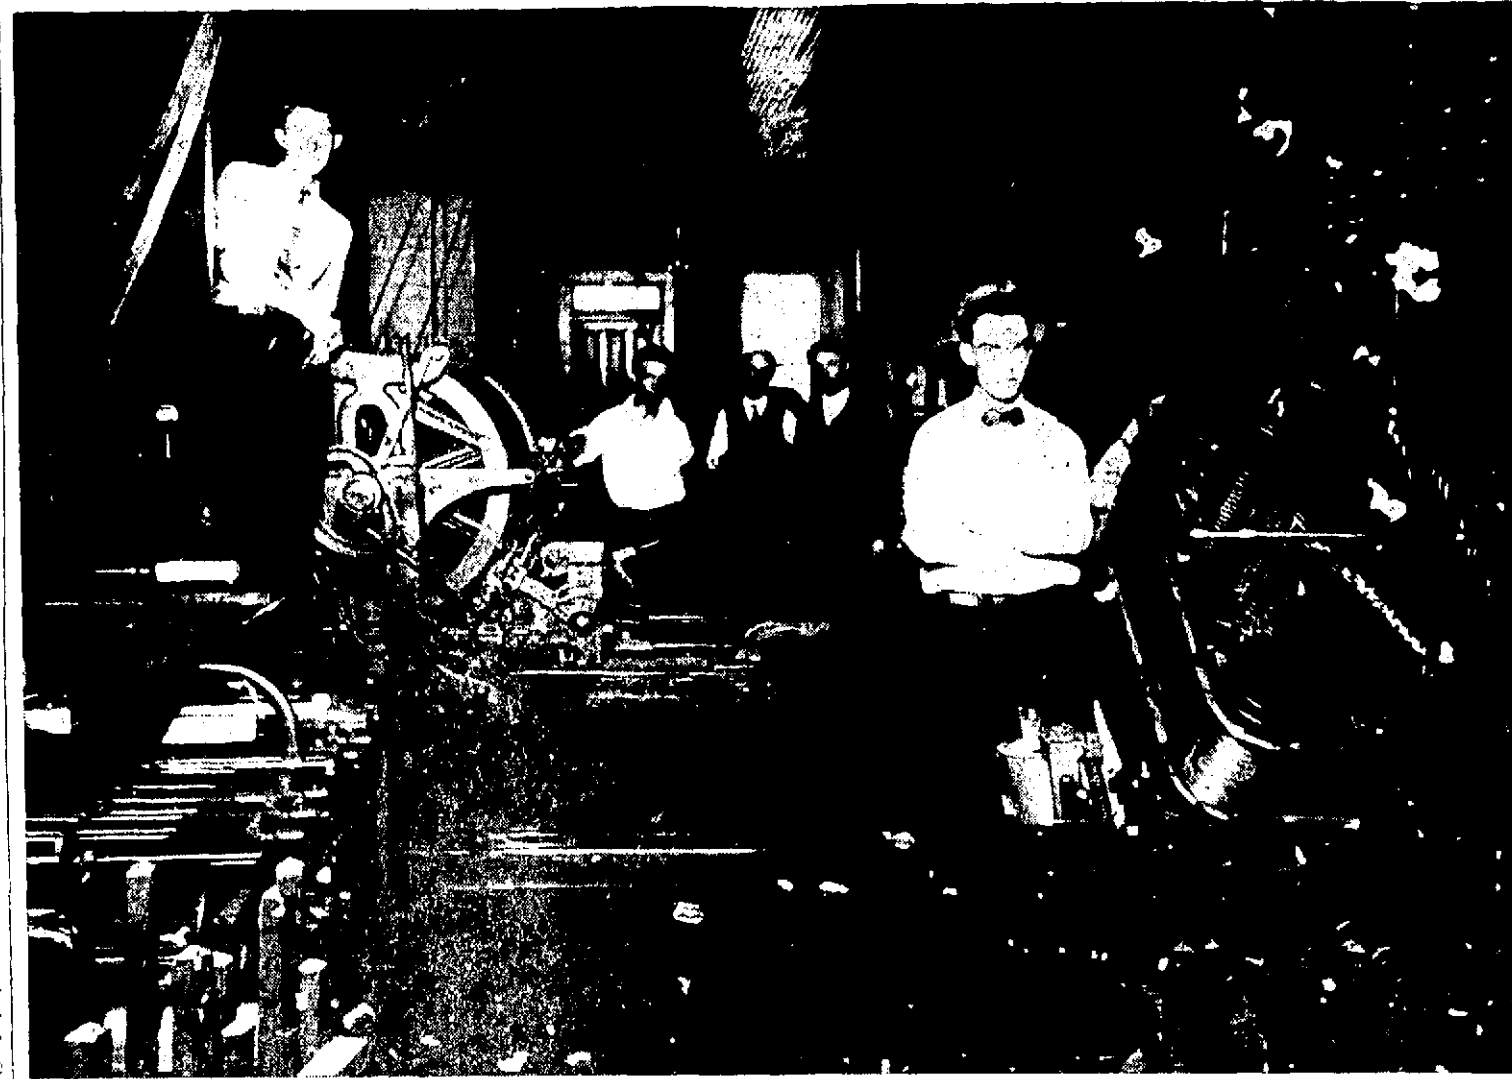

"With Snider available, opposing teams might not be so quick to switch to a right-handed pitcher," San Francisco Manager Al Dark, said Tuesday.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs exploded for a four-run 10th inning and an 8-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates while the San Francisco Giants clubbed Warren Spahn for five home runs en route to an 8-4 victory. In night games, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the New York Mets 5-3 and the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers shut out St. Louis 4-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Sandy Koufax.

Cincinnati and Houston had the day off.
Norm Cash and Bill Bruton homered for the Tigers and Jim Gentile and pinch hitter Manny Jimenez connected for Kansas City.
Boog Powell crashed a two-run homer in the eighth inning for the Orioles' victory over the White Sox. Starter Gary Peters was breezing until John Orsino homered in the sixth and pinch hitter Joe Gaines wiped out a 3-2 White Sox lead with a homer in the seventh.

Luis Aparicio's triple greeted relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm in the eighth and then Powell's homer won it for the Birds. Stu Miller was the winner in relief.

Travel Part of Being Pro Golfer's Wife

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—There was one thing about being an airline hostess, says Mrs. Joan Crampton. You didn't have to travel so much.

"That was before she married a golf pro."

"I used to get home every few days at least, to do my laundry and things," she says, "but now it's just one motel after another."

Joan, a pretty blonde who was born in Australia and grew up in New Zealand, married handsome, wavy-haired Australian golfer Bruce Crampton last December, in Sydney.

"We met about five years ago," Joan says. "I was out on a date with a passenger, and he introduced me to Bruce."

In those days Joan played golf, too, but Bruce says she doesn't any more, at least not when he's around. "I've never seen her hit a golf shot," he says.

Joan has seen Bruce hit thousands. Crampton is one of the most persistent golfers on the American pro circuit—he played in 38 consecutive weekly tournaments in 1962 and again in 1963—and Joan walks around the course and watches him on every round he plays in a tournament.

Crampton plans the same busy schedule this year that he followed in the past.

"Bruce says as long as he can win money consistently on the tour, we'll play it," Joan says.

That seems to settle the Cramptons plans for some time. Bruce won more than $30,000 in each of the last two years, plus exhibition fees and endorsements, and is off at about the same pace this year. He tied for 21st in the Masters, and won $1,106.

Last year he finished two strokes back in the U. S. Open and led the PGA through three rounds.

"We plan to play the tour up to October," Joan says, "and then go home to Australia for a couple of months, and then back to the tour. We'll start at Los Angeles."

"Right now it's all fun, even the motels. Usually we find a kitchen where I can cook. Bruce would live on steaks if he could, but I try to vary meals a little. And we go out at night, sometimes, either with some of the other golfers and their wives or with friends Bruce has made around the country."

Sunday is moving day for the Cramptons—every Sunday.

"We pack up the car Sunday morning, and check out," she says. "Then we drive to the course. After Bruce finishes, we start off for the next tournament. We share the driving. Sometimes it's a thousand miles or more."

"If we get there, say, on a Monday, Bruce will play a practice round if there's still time. And I get the laundry and shopping done. The same on Tuesday, and on Wednesday there's usually a pro-am and on Thursday the tournament."

Sikes Plans to Turn Professional

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Golfier R. H. Sikes of Springdale has applied to the Professional Golfers Association for a player's card, the Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times reported in today's editions.

Applying for a card is the first step in turning pro.

Sikes has been one of the nation's leading amateur golfers during his career at the University of Arkansas. He will graduate in June.

He made the 36-hole cutoff in the Masters Tournament last week and would have won more than $800 if he had been a pro.

Sikes could join the professional tour as soon as he gets his card.

The PGA headquarters in Dandridge, Fla., said it had not yet received Sikes' application. Jack Higgins, pro at the Broken Arrow Country Club in Broken Arrow, Okla., president of the regional PGA group, said he had not heard from Sikes.

But he said the procedure of getting two professionals and playing some test rounds usually delays action on formal applications.

Sikes could not be reached for comment today. His brother said he understood that R. H.

Nicklaus in Charge at Houston Glory

HOUSTON (AP)—For two straight years, big Jack Nicklaus has made a charge at the Houston Classic's gold and glory averaging 68.8 strokes per round for eight rounds, and averaging $3,400 per trip to the paymaster's window.

So on the eve of the big tee-off Thursday, the strong man from Ohio State has been established a 3-1 favorite to take it all this time as the $50,000 Classic moves to Sharpstown Country Club for the first time.

With both Arnold Palmer and Gary Player absent, Nicklaus was established the favorite over the defending champion, Bob Charles, the southpaw New Zealander who took the big bundle here last April with a record score of 268.

Charles is back for another run at the top money, but is bracketed at 5-1 with Houston's Dave Marr, Paul Harey, Dow Finsterwald and Bruce Devlin.

Nicklaus did not arrive Tuesday in time to join the rest of the field in a practice round, but was expected to make his

Koufax Takes Up Where He Left Off

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

When Sandy Koufax was interrupted last fall...

That's right, the Dodgers dandy took up Tuesday night where he left off last season, turning in one of his shutout specialties as Los Angeles opened defense of its National League championship by whipping St. Louis 4-0.

There were 50,451 in Dodger Stadium—the largest of the opening day crowds—when Koufax began to whip an assortment of fast balls and curves out of his effortless motion. And when it was over, he had fittingly pitched the first shutout in the National League.

Koufax, a 25-game winner last year with 11 shutouts marked alongside his name, allowed the Cardinals only six hits, struck out five and walked none while winning his eighth consecutive game and recording his 18th victory in the last 20 regular season decisions.

But the 1963 World Series hero had to share some of the spotlight with towering Frank Howard, baseball's reluctant player. The Dodgers' main power-provider, Howard proved it by tagging a 420-foot, two-run homer that capped the victory.

In other NL openers, Willie Mays collected two of San Francisco's five homers in an 8-4 wallowing of Milwaukee, Roy Sievers' three-run homer powered Philadelphia to a 5-3 victory over the New York Mets and Billy Williams' two-run homer in the 10th inning led the Chicago Cubs to an 8-4 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Houston and Cincinnati, who opened play Monday, were not scheduled.

In American League action, Minnesota edged Cleveland 7-6, Baltimore defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-3 and Detroit belted Kansas City 7-3. The Boston at New York game was postponed due to rain. Los Angeles and Washington were not scheduled.

The Dodgers scored in the sixth and finished off Ernie Broglio when Willie Davis singled, stole second and scored on Ron Fairly's single. That was enough for Koufax, but Jim Gilliam singled home another run in the seventh and then Howard wrapped it up in the eighth.

Mays hit a two-run homer in the third and finished off Warren Spahn with a solo shot in the eighth that chased the Braves' 42-year left-hander.

Jim Hart, Orlando Cepeda and Tom Haller also homered for the Giants, who broke a 4-4 tie in the sixth on Cepeda's single, a wild pitch and a single by Haller. Juan Marichal, 25-8 last year, was the winner on a seven-hitter.

The hillies pulled out front in the first as Roy Sievers hammered a homer off Al Jackson following a pair of walks. Bobby Wine's run-producing single in the second and a run-scoring double by rookie Richie Allen in the eighth closed out the scoring.

Pacific Coast Makes Bid for Cup Role

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pacific Coast will make its first bid for a role in the America's Cup defense with the purchase of the Columbia, winner of the 1958 Cup races against the British Sceptre.

Thomas P. Dougan, an industrialist from Newport Beach, Calif., who is an ardent small-boat sailor, bought the costly 12-meter yacht for "under $200,000" Tuesday from the estate of the late Paul Shields.

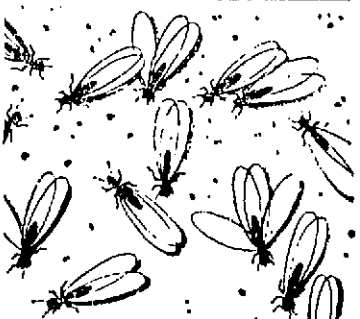

Cornelius Shields, a nephew of Paul Shields, said that under the provisions of the estate the yacht had to be sold.

The Columbia was built by a syndicate headed by Henry Sears and later was sold to Paul Shields. She beat the British Sceptre in four straight races six years ago.

In the trials last year, Columbia was beaten by Weatherly which later repelled the challenge of the Australian Gretel off Newport, R.I.

Dougan said the sloop will be skippered by Walter Podolak, an old friend and shipmate in many California races, and will have an all-California crew. Dougan and his 19-year-old son, Robby, will be members of the crew.

Columbia will be entered against three other yachts in the trials this June for the right to defend against the British challenge at Newport this September. The others are the Neferlitti, the new Constellation and another yacht being built by the Aurora syndicate headed by Pierre S. duPont of Wilmington, Del.

Communists Lost Shirt in Wall St.

EDITOR'S NOTE — There's irony in the Communist party losing its shirt in Wall Street — but that's what happened. The second of four articles on the fortunes and misfortunes of the Communists in the United States recounts what happened.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Certain that Stalin was infallible, the Communist party of the United States — CPUSA — took a giddy leap into Wall Street.

It had the wrong market analyst. The Russian bear market failed to materialize. Ex-Communists tell it this way:

Red doctrine decreed that world war would ring the death knell of world capitalism. A Communist economist named Eugene Varga had doubts, however, and wrote that the U.S. postwar depression might be delayed some years.

Furious, Stalin denounced and banished Varga, then reasserted the doctrine: Immediate U.S. depression was inevitable. It was all CPUSA needed.

Happily, the party in 1946 dipped into its considerable working capital and sallied into the market, intent on making money to finance the revolution which would come soon after the inevitable depression. Party financiers sold short.

Result: Disaster. The depression didn't come. The party lost a bundle.

To this day, Communists see nothing funny in the incident, and this reveals one of the party's great drawbacks in America. It could not permit a sense of humor. It could not afford a joke on itself. It could not be other than arrogant in demanding that its members restrict their thinking to the Kremlin's rigid rules.

After suffering heavy membership losses because of the Nazi-Soviet pact signalling World War II, the Communists recouped when Germany attacked the Soviet Union. The party abruptly dropped its anti-war campaign of strikes and sabotage. Overnight, Communists became superpatriots. Party boss Earl Browder forgot his antiwar pronouncements and became prowar.

But in the long run this contributed to the party's decline.

Browder and others were not agile enough after the war. Browder, who had earned a reputation as an executive in the Communist International conspiracy, seemed to believe that the Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin agreements presaged a postwar era in which Communists could win their aims by nonviolent means. He even conceived the idea of changing the party to the "Communist Political Association," abandoning the conspiratorial structure and becoming outwardly respectable.

Browder was 15 years ahead of his time. What he was in 1945 Soviet Premier Khrushchev became in the 1960s. What the Russians were in 1945, the Red Chinese became in the 1960s. That is, Browder-like ideas, now espoused by Khrushchev, caused the Soviet-Chinese split.

However, for his pains in 1945 Browder was deposed. Moscow chose French Communist leader Jacques Duclos as the executioner, with the notorious "Duclos letter" denouncing the new sin of "Browderism."

The lesson for the CPUSA politburo was that diplomatic accords were only scraps of paper to be discarded at will, and that nothing could slow the grim struggle of the Red world for supremacy.

With Browder's downfall and new confessions of Soviet policy, the party again lost members at a rapid clip. By 1948, the membership was down to about 60,000. Then, reading the "Duclos letter" as the word of Stalin, the U.S. party, again under William Foster's dogmatic leadership, headed for a new debacle.

To a man, today's ex-Communists agree that the party decision to support the progressive party presidential campaign of Henry A. Wallace spelled disaster.

Interpreting the Duclos letter, Foster ordered trade unions under party control to give all-out support to Wallace, whose movement provided promise of a political organization susceptible to infiltration.

Labor support went to President Harry S. Truman. Wallace emerged with a miserable showing. Communist hopes lay in ruins.

More jolts were coming. The party was deeply involved in sensational spy disclosures. Congressional investigations poured on more heat. A dozen party leaders were convicted for advocating overthrow of the government by force. A new Internal Security Act required the party to register and thus lay bare its financial and leadership secrets.

The party panicked. Its leaders acted as if the CPUSA had been outlawed, and as if the bitter cold war meant hot war

Hockey Loop Stanley Play Series Tied

TORONTO (AP)—The official count showed that 14,017 fans saw the Detroit Red Wings beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 Tuesday night to tie their National Hockey League Stanley Cup final at a game each.

As far as Coach Punch Imlach of Toronto is concerned, there were 14,028 spectators. "Our Cleveland forwards might just as well have been spectators the way they stood around in the way they practically all night," the unhappy Imlach said in the Leafs' dressing room.

Toronto, seeking its third straight Stanley Cup, trailed 3-1 going into the third period but finally tied things at 3-all on a brilliant goal by Gerry Ehman with just 46 seconds of play left.

The Leafs, who won the opener 3-2 on a goal in the final two seconds, had visions of another such performance Tuesday. But, the Wings practically ran them out of the rink in the sudden-death overtime period.

Toronto veteran goalie Johnny Bower had a terrific night, was just around the corner.

Several thousand Communists went underground. Many party offices were closed. Top leaders facing five-year prison sentences argued among themselves — another Moscow-like, backstage power struggle — about which of them should go to prison and which should skip bail.

More shocks were coming. Stalin died and his successors battled for control. Communists were asked to believe that Stalin's chief execution, police boss Lavrenty Beria, had in reality been an American spy all along.

Then came the biggest shock of all. In 1956, Khrushchev denounced the departed Stalin as a Byzantine monster.

Blue Norther Could Be a Derby First

By KESLO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — If trainer Wally Dunn can come up with a good excuse, his filly Blue Norther will become only the second of her sex in the past 19 years to run in the Kentucky Derby.

Folks around the race track just muffed their chuckles in the past when Dunn talked of sending the powerful filly in the rugged run for the roses. But it's Dunn who's doing all the laughing now.

Blue Norther has won all four starts this year. Her last victory was the $25,150 Ashland Stakes at Keeneland. She will most likely get her first chance at the name colts in the 1 1/2 mile Blue Grass Stakes April 23.

Dunn has said the daughter of Windy City II-Perfect Gem by Royal Gem II, will go in the Blue Grass, the last distance prep for the Derby, if the run for the roses co-favorite Hill Rise does not go.

It's not that Dunn is avoiding Hill Rise. It's just that he wants jockey Willie Shoemaker in the irons. If Hill Rise goes, the Shoe will ride him. Shoemaker says that Blue Norther is the best filly he has ever ridden.

The way things stack up presently, Hill Rise will go post-ward in the seven-furlong Fore-kicking out 45 shots. He turned seven of them aside in the sudden-death period before Larry Jeffrey took a perfect pass from Gordie Howe to slam home the winner at 7:51.

Detroit's goalie, Terry Sawchuk, had only one step in the overtime session, that a routine try, and 26 for the night. The best-of-seven series now shifts to Detroit for games No. 3 and 4 Thursday and Saturday nights.

Phil Rookie Lives Up to Billing

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One game as they say doesn't make a season, but if the 1964 success of the Philadelphia Phillies depends on their prize rookie, Richie Allen, the Phillies are going to be mighty tough.

Many experts have written that if Allen, the 22-year-old Negro third baseman from Wampum, Pa., can perform half as well as his advance billing, Manager Gene Mauch's Phillies could win the pennant.

Some 21,000 fans came out to see the Phillies' opener at Connie Mack Stadium Tuesday night and most of them came away talking about Allen. He walked, singled and doubled, scored a run and drove in a tally. But more important, he didn't panic under some trying conditions.

The Phillies led 4-1 over the New York Mets in the fifth inning when Allen was put to the test. The first two hitters for New York got on base as Allen twice slipped in mud created by a day long rain. It was upsetting to a veteran, let alone a rookie.

But Allen didn't let it bother him even a little bit. "Heck, if I could play at Little Rock there isn't anything here that's going to bother me," said the youngster.

Allen, of course, referred to his season last year in the International League at Little Rock.

Twenty-nine fillies have started in the Derby but only one, Regret in 1915, crossed the finish line first.

Hutchinson to Los Angeles

SEATTLE (AP) — Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, left for Los Angeles Tuesday night after undergoing examinations for a cancerous growth at the Swedish Hospital's Tumor Institute.

Examining doctors said they were "very pleased" with the results of the tests and that no further examinations would be required until June.

Hutchinson underwent treatment for nearly six weeks at the Institute last winter and when he was released doctors said they were satisfied with his progress. They did not elaborate.

The Reds play the Dodgers in Los Angeles Thursday.

Power Project

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power and Light Co. has announced the start of construction of an $11 million, 500,000-volt electric transmission line between Little Rock and West Memphis. The 137-mile line will connect AP&L with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Rock where he received everything from the boos and racial insults to threats against his life.

He responded by leading the Triple A League in home runs, triples, RBIs and total bases.

Skipper Mauch described this cool rookie best after the 5-3 victory over the Mets.

"There isn't anything that is going to bother Richie Allen," said Mauch. "He's good and he knows it."

Allen slammed the ball down after his second mud slide. He said he was sorry about that.

"I forgot for a minute there were people watching," he commented. "It won't happen again."

Pesticides Traced to Liver Cancer

CHICAGO (AP) — Mice that were fed a diet containing small amounts of two common pesticides developed cancer of the liver, a University of Arkansas researcher reported today.

Dr. Joseph Song, associate professor of pathology at the U of A Medical Center in Little Rock, said the pesticides were aldrin and dieldrin.

After being fed diets containing the pesticides, cancerous liver cells invaded the blood stream in all the mice, Song said.

"The significance lies in the fact that man and other animals are constantly exposed to these two widely used pesticides," he said.

Song addressed the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, meeting here. Dieldrin has figured recently in relation to fish kills in the lower Mississippi River.

He said dieldrin and aldrin are classified as chlorinated hydrocarbon and "it is an established fact that every one of the chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides is a liver poison."

Accident Fatal at Russellville

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Marke W. Emerson, 47, of Russellville, died here Monday night of injuries received Sunday night in a two-car accident on U.S. 64 east of here.

Oscar V. Emery, 39, of Van Buren, and his wife and three children, who were in the other car, were in good condition in a hospital here Tuesday.

Local Beautician Attends Annual Convention

Mrs. Cleaster Randle, owner and operator of Unique Beauty Salon, recently attended the 25th annual Trade Show and Educational Clinic sponsored by the Arkansas Beauticians at Little Rock.

The group was well informed in the art of beauty culture by Mrs. Rose Mary Smith, Guest Artist. Her lectures and demonstrations were interesting and informative. Miss Perita Bates gave lessons in fashion and charm.

The coordination of these two artists produced a most gala affair at the annual Style Show which concluded the meet.

Mrs. Randle invites all her friends to come by and see the photos and write-ups of this sensational affair.

Says Wallace Win Affects Rights Bill

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) - Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said today Alabama Gov. George Wallace' surprising show of influence in the Wisconsin primary may have been the turning point in the success or failure of civil rights legislation now pending in the Senate.

Bennett told a civic club, "The proponents of the bill are having trouble getting up a quorum to carry on Senate business, readily admit they do not have enough votes to choke off debate and are losing voters daily."

"I still hope and believe that this legislation will be repudiated by the Senate," he said. He said Wallace has received substantial financial help from "Farsighted, reputable citizens of our state" and "these contributions have enabled him to carry on an educational program in Wisconsin."

Minnesota Hurt by Snow, Ice

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) - Drifted snow and icy slush stalled traffic on northwestern Minnesota highways today following 12 hours of snow and powerful wind.

Winds continued to whip the snow today. Highway equipment sought to open up main arteries. Temperatures were in the 20s and 30s.

Wind gusts to 83 m.p.h. were clocked in the state Monday. Trees were uprooted, communication and power lines snapped, and some small buildings were toppled. A 540-foot television relay tower broke 50 feet above the ground. The eastern Dakotas also were hit by the storm.

Johnson Likes to Keep in Public Focus

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has such a knack for staying in focus it's hard to recall a day he hasn't been photographed since he took office.

President Kennedy had the same knack. It's almost a hobby with Johnson.

No would-be president, particularly in an election year like this, can compete with the man in the White House in that priceless piece of political acreage: the field of public exposure.

Johnson is making full use of the advantage, but not in quite the same way as Kennedy who got special mileage from his televised news conferences. Johnson is neither as witty or easily graceful in handling newsmen.

But he probably has more contact with them generally—and with photographers—in suddenly called, almost informal but non-televised conferences or in sudden unexpected appearances in their midst.

So, in a bouncy kind of way, he is more unpredictable than Kennedy was. He is constantly bouncing, which seems a good word, into unpredictable situations almost all of them made to order for cameramen.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were good examples. It should be remembered, any time you see a Johnson picture it almost surely means a number of pictures of him in that same situation were taken from different angles by a number of photographers.

Friday — Labor-management leaders in the rail dispute met with him at the White House, trying to settle it. He was photographed with them in couples, trios and groups. Later he was pictured announcing a strike truce.

He was photographed discussing NATO with top American officials; getting a pass to American League baseball games from the league president, Joe Cronin; trying out his arm for the opening day's pitch; conferring with Secretary of State Dean Rusk; another in a session on the approved wheat-cotton bill.

He suddenly appeared on a White House balcony with poet Carl Sandburg, yelling "hey" to newsmen and photographers below. Appropriate pictures were snapped.

Then he suddenly bounced into the White House lobby, announcing he was ready to call a news conference. But there were no reporters there. They were all in an inner office at that moment, getting a news briefing from Johnson's news secretary, George Reedy.

Johnson bounced in there for a moment, bounced out, went back to his own office.

Saturday — Various pictures of Johnson with congressmen and farm representatives as he signed the wheat-cotton bill. These pictures included the signing and shaking hands all around; more of Johnson shaking hands with classmates of his daughter, Luci, who had a White House reception for them.

More pictures when Johnson spotted sightseers outside the White House gates, ordered the gates opened for them, took them on a tour of the grounds, and waved goodbye at the end of the tour.

Then he had a news conference (more pictures) and dashed off to see Felix Frankfurter, Supreme Court justice who retired a couple of years ago after a stroke. There were no pictures of Frankfurter but on the way out Johnson was photographed shaking hands with the elevator man and the cook.

But the day wasn't done. Johnson went off to play golf, attired in an appropriate outfit, which meant more pictures.

Sunday — he started off the day by going to church with his wife and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Mrs. McNamara. There were a lot of pictures of him when he came out and went around shaking hands with practically everyone in sight.

Back to the White House. More pictures of him handshaking tourists outside the White House gates and of him walking around the grounds with the McNamaras, and then Johnson shaking hands through the gates with the sightseeing tourists. Then he went to play golf again. More pictures.

Fire Breaks Out on Board Ship

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Fire, touched off by a short circuit in electrical wires, broke out early today in a storeroom aboard the U.S. Navy's destroyer tender Yosemite.

It was brought under control within an hour. A Navy spokesman said there was minor water damage to electrical material in the storeroom. No personnel were injured.

Underground Test Is Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced that a nuclear test of low yield, meaning an explosive force less than that of 20,000 tons of TNT, was conducted underground today at the AEC test site in Nevada.

It was the fourth weapons-related test this year.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television keeps getting its lumps from the critics and intellectuals, but more people seem to be watching more television on more sets than ever.

That, at least, is the finding of Nielsen researchers. The company estimates that some 51,300,000 American homes in the United States, not counting Alaska and Hawaii, are television-equipped—92 per cent of all households, and a slight increase over 1962.

Set ownership is heaviest—95 per cent or more homes have them—in the Northeastern United States. It is lightest—87 per cent—in the South.

The Nielsen company estimates that the average television set is in use six hours and a quarter daily during mid-winter months, but skids to four and a quarter hours a day during the summer. These figures incidentally, have changed very little during the past eight years.

From now on, "The Beverly Hillbillies" can call itself "the award-winning series." The country-style program, at once the nation's most popular and most maligned by critics, has been voted the "best comedy series" by the million-member American Legion Auxiliary which gave it a "Golden Mike." The annual membership poll also named "Perry Mason" the best adventure series.

Recommended tonight: "Ben Casey," ABC, 9-10 EST—Lew Ayres, the original Dr. Kildare when it was a movie series, turns up as a businessman patient of TV's glowering neurosurgeon.

Russian Women Cagers Win All

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—The Russian women's basketball team wound up its American tour Tuesday night with a 50-49 victory over the Wayland College Flying Queens.

The Russians won all five

Cotton and Wheat Plans Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) —New cotton and wheat stabilization programs, retaining planting allotments established earlier for 1964 crops, have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman announced the provisions of the programs, which affect growers, producers and exporters, shortly after President Johnson signed the cotton-wheat bill Saturday.

In signing the legislation, which will provide about $1 billion in payments to wheat and cotton farmers and subsidies to domestic cotton mills, Johnson said it "gives us some insurance against a depression on the farm."

Under the cotton program, which retains the 16 - million acre planting allotment, growers will have these four choices:

1. They can plant within their effective basic allotment, including any acreage given them from allotments surrendered by other growers. They would then be eligible for price supports at 30 cents a pound — about 2.5 cents less than last year.

2. They can plant within a domestic allotment — 33 per cent less than the basic allotment. Those with farms of 15 acres or less have a domestic allotment of either 15 acres or their basic allotment, whichever is less. Those farmers planting within their domestic allotment will be eligible for price supports at 30 cents a pound plus a government payment of 3.5 cents a pound on the normal yield of their domestic allotment.

3. They can participate in what is called an export acreage allotment. They can plant their full basic allotment plus an additional 5 per cent of that allotment. They would be eligible for 30 cents support on the cotton grown under the basic allotment but no support on the extra 5 per cent which could be sold for export only.

4. They can ignore all allotments and plant as much as they want. They would then receive no price support or payments and would have to pay a penalty of about 20 cents a pound on cotton grown in excess of the basic allotment.

The subsidy to domestic textile mills including in the new program is designed to enable them to compete on even terms with foreign mills, which can buy U.S. cotton at the world market price, which is 8.5 cents a pound cheaper than the domestic price.

Soybean Big Crop in State This Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The most popular crop in Arkansas this year will be soybeans—some 3.1 million acres of them, or half the total acreage planted to crops in Arkansas.

This is the estimate put forth by Clay R. Moore, economist for the Agricultural Extension Service.

The soybean plantings will compare with 30 per cent for cotton and three per cent for wheat, Moore says.

This will be the second year for such a high proportion of cropland to be planted to a single crop.

Why soybeans? Moore says the over-riding reason seems to be that soybeans is the highest profit crop other than the controlled crops, cotton and rice.

Moore said that based on the five-year state average yields, net returns per acre to land and management were $30 for soybeans, $21 for wheat, $7 for corn, $2.50 for oats, $1 for grain sorghum and $3 for barley.

Row crops, corn and grain sorghum, small grain crops and hay crops are the main ones considered competitive with soybeans for unrestricted acreage that can be planted to any crop.

But hay crops are not produced much as cash crops. To expand hay crops would mean to expand livestock production, Moore said, and this has not been the trend except in local situations.

The livestock industry is in trouble already, with supplies zooming and prices declining. Producers have set up a crash program to promote consumption of beef, hoping the state will eat its way out of the surplus problem.

Soybeans are another crop the government is looking at with the word surplus in mind. The recently passed wheat-cotton legislation has given rise to fears in some quarters that farmers will plant reduced cotton and wheat acreage to soybeans, further upsetting the current supply and demand level.

Moore says farmers must make estimates of likely returns from the various crops. They are inclined to use yield and price figures that most nearly apply to their situation, he said.

And under these present price and production figures, they are continuing to expand soybean production at the expense of other adapted crops.

Allen Among the Top U.S. Scorers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Four Arkansas basketball players finished among the top 100 scorers in the final statistics of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. The statistics were released Saturday.

The four were James Mack Allen of Arkansas AM&N who finished sixth with 31.6 points average per game; Leon Clements, Ouachita 34th with 25.1 points; Harold Blevins, AM&N, 39th with 24.6 and Tom Davis of Arkansas State Teachers College, 59th with 23.7.

Jones Files for a Fifth Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones filed today as a candidate for his fifth term as auditor.

Jones, 44, a native of Magnolia and graduate of Southern State College, was appointed auditor in 1957, filling the post made vacant by the death of Oscar Humphrey. Before that he served as land commissioner under Gov. Francis Cherry.

Of the four men selected today at the Manned Spacecraft Center, the training base for astronauts, only Schirra has made an orbital flight.

Grissom made a suborbital flight of 142.1 miles downrange from Cape Kennedy Sept. 13, 1961, and Schirra followed with a six-orbit mission Oct. 3, 1962.

Young and Stafford, former test pilots, became astronaut trainees Sept. 17, 1962.

Since the completion of the one-man Mercury flights last year, Grissom has held a primary assignment as coordinator of Gemini affairs with other members of the astronaut team that now totals 29 pilots. Schirra, now 41, is the oldest of the original seven Mercury astronauts now that Lt. Col. John Glenn has resigned from the program. Glenn is 42.

Schirra, while concentrating on the Gemini program, has been a coordinator of operations and training.

Young has specialized on the design and development of environmental control systems, survival gear, pressure suits, couches and other personal equipment. Stafford has specialized on communications, instrumentation and range integration.

The flight will be the first American manned effort since Maj. Gordon Cooper orbited the earth 22 times in a Mercury capsule May 15, 1963.

The Gemini program is a bridge between Mercury and the Apollo moon landing project. It was announced Dec. 17, 1961, as a plan to extend the Mercury program with the development of a two-man spacecraft.

Prime objectives of Gemini are to determine man's ability to function for long periods in space and the feasibility of rendezvous and docking in orbital flights.

The Building Industry Has Not Boomed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In the midst of all the general prosperity the residential real estate industry is having its own private readjustment. It can be thankful for one thing—that this is happening just now.

After the long postwar boom, the housing market in many cities and regions is less than exuberant. And although construction of single family homes hasn't slid much in the last two years, builders are having to re-adjust to new sales conditions.

But on the whole the industry—and especially that part of it which puts up the money for the mortgages—hasn't been pinched too badly. If the rest of the economy was in a downswing, however, there would be trouble ahead.

As it is, most builders have been able to refinance when necessary. Most lenders report the foreclosure rate, though higher than a while back, isn't too worrisome. The residential estate boom has faded—but it hasn't gone bust.

Some cities are seeing more trouble for their big rush to build apartment houses. And in these places the vacancy signs are disturbing. The projects often have had to refinance to wait for what builders still confidently refer to as another upsurge in rental demand sure to come in a year or two.

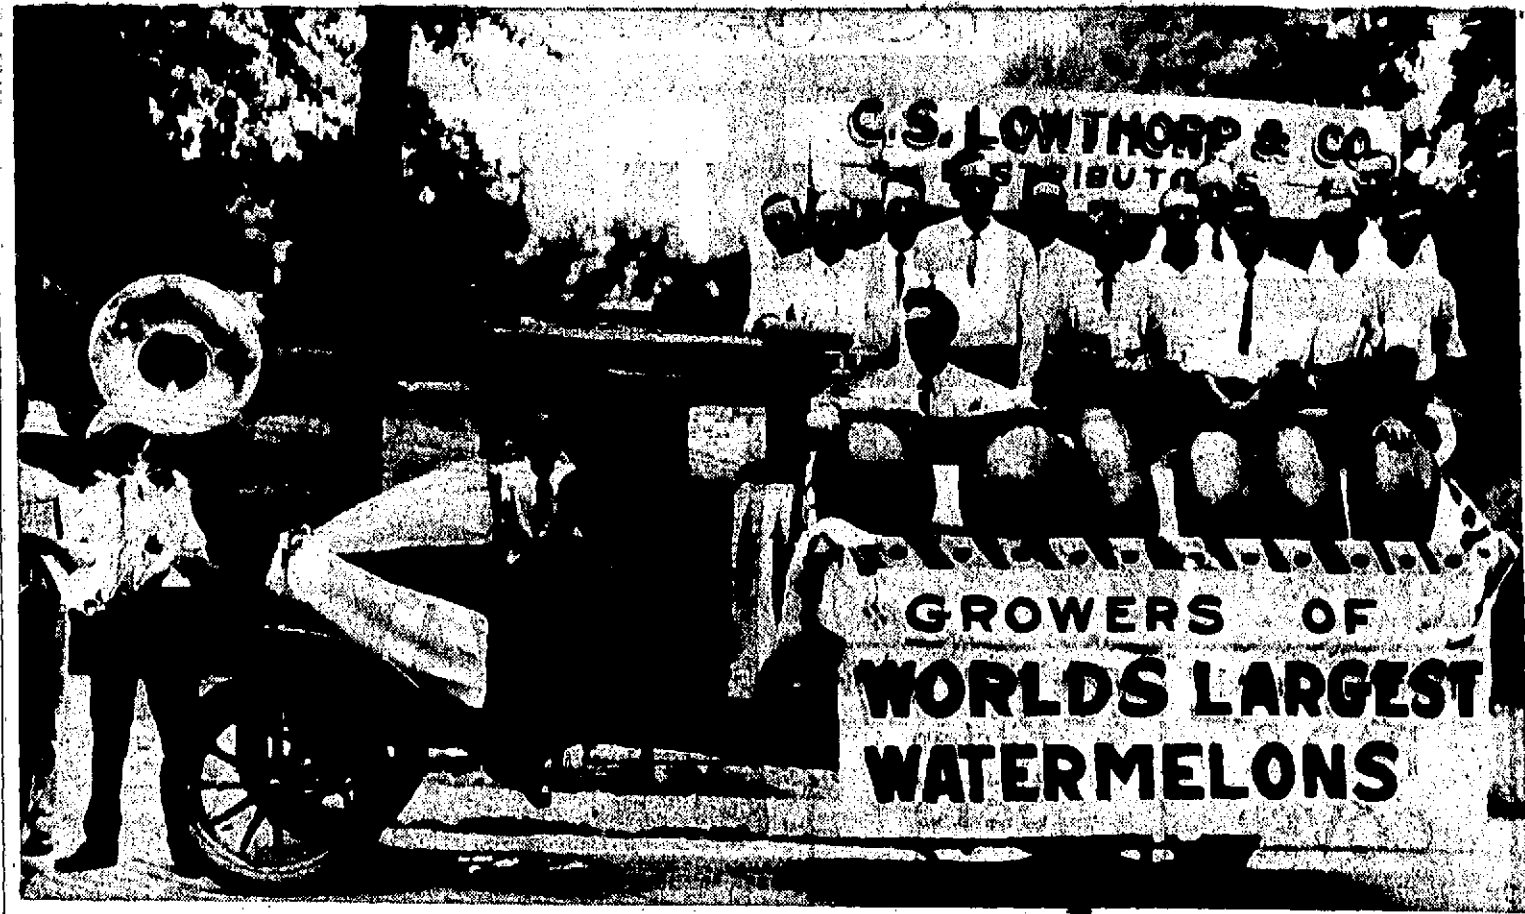

In a few cities the overbuilding of apartment houses was all but intentional. In New York City the rush to put up luxury suites was fired by a desire to beat a change in zoning and building rules. This old law allowed a builder to use more of the ground and air space.

Starting new projects has all but halted since the new law went into effect.

But the apartment houses that were started in the grace period are often far less than profitably filled.

Almost everyone in the industry is counting on the growth in demanded they see ahead. It is supposed to come from two sources:

1. The age group that is the best prospect for the housing salesman is from 21 to 45. And this group is due to start increasing fast the rest of this decade into the 1970's.
2. Builders look for a general rise in the economy above even today's high level. If unemployment can be made to shrink, and if personal incomes can be made to swell still more, the housing market seems sure to profit.

A Choice of Assassins

THE STORY: Tony Malcolm, a derelict stranded in Spain, is without money and he has just been thrown out of a tavern. He has lost all hope, the only thing that seems to matter to his wretched mind is getting something to drink.

The words were Spanish, the voice was thick and cheerful. Footsteps sounded near him and a hand shook his shoulder. "You hurt, friend?"

Malcolm pushed himself up and sat on the curbstone. The man sat beside him and patted his shoulder clumsily. Malcolm took his arm. The man started to rise, but Malcolm tightened his grip on his arm. "I must have something to drink," he said. "Please help me." There was an edge of panic in his voice. The blow on his head had somehow diminished the effects of the brandy.

The man pulled himself free and lurched to his feet, his face full of stupid alarm. "You hurt your head, you are bleeding," he said in a worried voice, and then he turned and hurried down the street toward the beach, occasionally glancing back over his shoulder at Malcolm as if to reassure himself that the figure huddled on the curb was real and true, and not just a fancy of his imagination.

Malcolm stood up and looked about tensely and fearfully.

The face of a woman appeared in the mists of his mind. And on her face was a smile. Slowly at first the face began to circle against the blackness inside his head, but soon the movement became so violent and rapid that the features blurred beyond recognition, and there was only a brilliant light spinning against his skull like a buzz saw.

He crawled to his feet and splashed the cool water from the fountain over his face, sluicing dirt from his whiskered face and rubbing away the wine at the corners of his mouth.

She lived in the mountains a few miles above Cartama, at a place called the Arroyo de Miel, the river of honey.

To climb the curving road through the mountains to the Arroyo de Miel was no challenge to the young tourists who visited Cartama. In the cool of the morning or evening it was no more than a pleasant hike. The soft peaks of the mountains stood out clearly against the white sky, sparkling with rose and lemon lights at dawn and streaked with cool purple shadows as the sun dipped behind them at night. When the wind came off the sea it was possible to reach the Arroyo de Miel without working up a sweat.

But to Malcolm, sustained only by a mixture of delirium and hope, the trip was agony.

He would never have made it except for one miraculous stroke of luck; a refrigerated truck with a load of fresh fish for Madrid lumbered past him in low gear, and before it picked up speed Malcolm lurched forward and got a grip on the ropes that were lashed across the tailgate.

The truck pulled Malcolm nearly half way to the Arroyo de Miel.

When he came to the Arroyo de Miel, it was seven o'clock in the morning. The tiny village was a heap of white buildings which looked as if they had been swept up carelessly against the side of the mountain.

Somehow he found her home. He stood on a stone step pounding weakly on a wooden door. There was a fragrance of geraniums in the air, mingling with the smell of olive oil and dust, and he saw blood - red flowers which stood like prisoners on the sill of a barred window.

"Go away," a man's voice said. "She is sleeping."

Malcolm stared helplessly at the man who stood in the open doorway, sleeves rolled up above the elbows of his thick, hairy arms, and a cigarette plastered against his lower lip. He was about 40, stocky and muscular, with small brown eyes embedded deeply in his broad face.

"I have to see her, I must," Malcolm said weakly. "I walked up here, all the way from Cartama."

"It will be easier walking back, it's downhill," the man said. He did not look at Malcolm, but stared up and down the street, and at the sea and the clouds.

"But I can make her smile," Malcolm said. He was near tears. "That's why I came here. To make her smile."

"Go away," the man said, still scanning the sky and sea with a sailor's eyes. "She is sleeping."

From somewhere behind him a woman's voice said quietly. "Bring him in, Jorge," and Malcolm felt his heart pound with hope because he knew that intuition and instinct had once again performed their custom-

Conway Co. Asks Faubus to Run Again

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than 3,400 Conway County residents asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to seek a sixth term today and the governor said the invitation would be hard to resist.

Faubus did not reveal his plans when about 150 signers of petitions asking him to run again appeared in his office. They presented him with $2,461 collected along with 3,456 names on the petitions.

C. M. Stout of Hattiesville, a converted Republican, gave the money to Faubus. The money, all in crisp $1 bills, was in a mesh sack similar to those used for carrying potatoes.

The ceremony in the governor's reception room took only about 10 minutes. Then Faubus invited the visitors through his office and he shook hands with each one.

Doubts had been raised in some quarters about the political advisability of Faubus identifying himself with Conway County, scene of allegations of vote fraud.

But the appeal of getting a campaign contribution from Winthrop Rockefeller's home county and from a Republican at that, apparently was too much for Faubus to resist.

Stout told Faubus he abandoned the Republican Party two years ago and voted for Faubus in the primary and general elections. He said more than 50 persons volunteered to circulate the petitions and collect the money. The job was done in four days, he said.

Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, sheriff of the county, and Rep. Loid Sadler were on hand for the presentation. Hawkins took advantage of the occasion to say that he had not sponsored the petition campaign.

"But I sure didn't discourage it," he added.

Faubus remarked, "It seems to me that since you've got money, this is a better poll than the one before." He referred to a Republican poll which Republicans said showed Rockefeller could get more than 50 per cent of the vote in Conway County.
